“This was an excellent training, with more information given, presented than I could have imagined. Definitely got my money’s worth.”
Juvenile Law Conference
Sep 14-15, 2016; Alliant Energy Center, Madison, WI

For more than 40 years, the Juvenile Law Conference has brought together professionals and leaders from across the juvenile justice field. This year, the conference returns, bringing with it the opportunity to gain a deeper understanding of juvenile justice law and the skills to develop more effective departmental policies and procedures. Designed for professionals in schools, law enforcement, mental health fields, and others whose work relates to the juvenile justice system and processes, this two-day conference provides up-to-date, relevant information and perspectives on statutory and case law, as well as procedures in the state’s juvenile court system.

Instructors

Frank J. Crisafi is a former chief juvenile prosecutor in Milwaukee County and attorney for the Madison Metropolitan School District. He practiced law in the areas of juvenile justice, special education, confidentiality of pupil records, and school discipline. He currently teaches seminars in juvenile justice administration and school law for social workers and law enforcement officers throughout Wisconsin.

Lindsey Draper is an attorney who previously served as a Milwaukee County assistant district attorney, an assistant state public defender, and a judicial court commissioner primarily with the Children’s Court.

Pamela Eitland is director of human services at Vernon County. She teaches Basic Intake Training for social workers for the state of Wisconsin. Pamela previously served as a juvenile services specialist in the Wisconsin Department of Corrections and a social worker in Polk County.

Dave Perlman is an assistant attorney general in the Wisconsin Department of Justice.

Luis Yudice is coordinator of School Safety and Security for the Madison Metropolitan School District. He previously served as a captain in the Madison Police Department.

“Very thorough, in-depth education on juvenile justice code. I learned a great deal and am very glad I attended.”
