Meet the Program Director

Beth Fahlberg (PhD, RN, CHPN, AGPCNP-BC) directs Continuing Studies’ new palliative care and aging programs for nurses and healthcare professionals. She is certified in hospice and palliative nursing, with a focus on complex and serious illness, acute and transitional care, and the patient and family experience. Fahlberg is a national leader in advancing heart failure-specific palliative care, translating evidence into practice and advancing integrated, primary palliative care through her teaching, writing, speaking and use of social media. As a UW-Madison educational innovation leader, she has been involved in numerous campus initiatives to advance teaching and learning practices and policies to benefit students & faculty.
